BALANCE YOUR LIFE WITH BALANCED FUNDS

In our previous article on Balanced Funds, we discussed about what a balanced fund is and what are the unique characteristics and benefits that it has on offer for the investors. In this article we will concentrate on the Systematic Withdrawal Option (SWP) of a balanced fund, how it can soothe the daily life of an investor by the simultaneous working of the equity component towards wealth creation and the debt component towards providing stability.

The SWP option of a balanced fund provides for your various routine money requirements like payment of insurance premiums, loan installments, kids' school fee, etc. These expenses are unavoidable, they otherwise minimize your disposable income and may stymie your swanky lifestyle. The balanced fund also concurrently takes care of your long term life goals. A balanced fund with an SWP option is a sort of a two in one investment. So if you are looking for an investment that can generate a regular passive income which can take care of your car loan EMI's and another investment with a view to upgrade your car five years later. Then a balanced fund is the one stop solution that can cater to both your investment needs. By investing in a balanced fund, you can pay your EMI's from the SWP and fund the car purchase with the corpus collected at the end of the investment period.

The beauty of a balanced fund lies in the fact that although it invests a significant proportion of its portfolio in debt (25%-35%), yet it has been able to generate Good Risk Adjusted Returns, as seen in the last article.

BALANCED FUND WITH SWP OPTION FOR A REGULAR INCOME

Most of us invest our savings in Bank FD's, Postal MIS, Senior Citizen Saving Schemes, offering a monthly / quarterly interest, with a view to meet our regular income requirements. However,

- ▶ The returns generated by these products are low; in the range of 6.5% - 8.5%.
- ▶ Which are not tax free / efficient.
- ▶ There is no scope of capital appreciation.

On the other hand, a Balanced fund with SWP Option can give you a Regular Income, which is tax free as well as gives Capital Appreciation.

So let's take an example where you invest ₹ 10 Lakh in these products for ten years. Here is a quick working for the same:

INVESTMENT PLAN FOR 10 YEARS	BANK FD/POSTAL MIS/SENIOR CITIZEN SAVINGS SCHEME	BALANCED FUND
Initial Investment	₹ 10,00,000	₹ 10,00,000
Annual Income Withdrawal	₹ 80,000 [@ 8%]	₹ 80,000 (Matching FD)
Tax payable Assuming person in highest tax slab	₹ 24,720 (@ 30.90% on Interest Income)	₹ 1,565 - Capital Gains @ 15%* Tax applicable for 1st year only.
Total Taxes in 10 Years	₹ 2,47,200	₹ 1,565
Actual Income Received per year	₹ 55,280. Monthly = ₹ 4,606	₹ 80,000. Monthly = ₹ 6,667
Total Income Received in 10 Years	₹ 5,52,800	₹ 7,98,435
Maturity Amount after 10 Years	₹ 10,00,000	₹ 23,12,320

Note: Balanced Fund returns are assumed at 15%. For ₹ 80,000 withdrawal, assuming returns of 15%, capital gains will be (₹ 80,000 less ₹ 69,565 (Principal))= 10,435 @ 15%)

For Balanced funds, Short Term (less than 1 year) the Capital Gains tax rate is 15% while for Long Term (over 1 year), there is no tax as of now.

A Balanced Fund with SWP option can be very helpful for you in meeting your regular income requirements as well as building a big corpus for you on maturity. A balanced Fund with SWP can be used to:

► Meet monthly expenses after Retirement:

Invest ₹37.50 Lacs when you retire, and withdraw ₹25,000 per month for 20 years. At the end end of 20 years, you can gift your children a handsome sum of ₹2.85 crore, which will be the value of your investment after taking care of your monthly needs.

► Pay for children yearly school fee: If you are worried about your kid's schools fee, considering the rise in cost of education. Invest ₹15 Lacs in a balanced fund with SWP option, withdraw ₹120,000 a year to pay the school fee and after 15 years, you'll have ₹61 Lacs to meet your kid's higher education expenses.

► Enjoy Holidays with Family: If you are one happy traveller's soul and you like to go for a vacation every year with your family. Invest ₹25 Lacs in a balanced fund, withdraw ₹2 Lacs every year to meet your vacationing and go for a world tour with ₹1.92 crore that you'll get after 20 years.

► Pay yearly insurance premiums: Do insurance premiums disturb your finances every third month? Invest just ₹6.25 lacs in a balanced fund, pay your premiums worth ₹50,000 a year from your SWP and get ₹0.93 crore at the end of 25 years.

You can meet all these and more expenses like paying for your Home Loan or Car Loan EMI's, credit card payments, and many other recurring expenses from your SWP, yet have a handsome corpus created for yourself at maturity of your investment.

So the crux is, a balanced with an SWP option is a master tool that takes care of your present as well as your future by striking a balance between equity and debt. Balanced fund is a good product for cash-flow planning with equity returns & taxation benefits but also with some limits on downside risks.

Note: In all of the above examples, 15% rate of return is assumed. The examples are for illustration purposes only. Mutual fund investments are subject to market risks. Please read scheme documents carefully before investing.

EMERGING TRENDS IN WEALTH MANAGEMENT

It is difficult to accumulate wealth and it is all the more difficult to manage it. Building & Managing Wealth is like bringing a child into this world, and then upbringing the child right. Like glitches in nurturing a child can impair his entire life, similarly mismanagement of wealth can lead to the destruction of the wealth that you have created after putting in prolonged efforts. Wealth Management has always been practised in bits and pieces, people have been saving money since ages, and some investing in traditional investment options. With time, due to greater awareness, Wealth Management has gained due recognition, it has evolved into a separate subject and plays an elementary role in an individual's life. Wealth Management is an elaborate mechanism and is not restricted to savings and investment only, rather it revolves around various facets of your financial life like Tax planning, Retirement planning, Will writing, Insurance policies, Goal Planning, etc., in addition to saving and investment. For investors, comprehensive wealth management is no longer a question of choice but of necessity. Wealth management is now being seen as a critical element of holistic financial well-being. Along with the maturing of the wealth management areas, there are also some interesting trends emerging in the field which investors should look out for. These emerging trends will only help and encourage investors to adopt these changes in an era where change is the only constant.

Here is a quick look at the emerging trends impacting wealth management that one should be aware of:

Financial Inclusion: The present government has been very keen on increasing financial participation of every Indian into the formal sector. Be it the Jan-Dhan Yojana, Demonetisation, Payment Banks licenses and GST, there are many government initiatives and a regulatory push to reduce the size of the parallel economy and bring masses into mainstream. More than 25 crore Jan-Dhan accounts were opened in just the last 2 years. As more and more people join the formal economy, the penetration of financial products is only going to rise. In terms of the non-banking masses, untouched by financial services industry earlier, today there is easy access to things like banking, insurance, loans and investment products which were earlier non-existent and unimaginable. Imagine what impact can financial inclusion, being pushed by such big ticket reforms, have on the ground level for millions of Indians! India today is also the hotbed of financial inclusion and at the forefront of innovation in financial inclusion and in fintech in world.

Digital Disruption: When Digitization has practically enveloped all industries, all products and services, for Wealth Management too, there is no escape. Today technology has widely increased accessibility of banking, financial services and wealth products. In the year 2016-17 alone, digital payments grew >55% by volume and >24% by value over the previous year. Today there are a wide range of mobile and online apps for tracking and transacting, end-to-end platforms have enabled seamless customer experience. For eg., in mutual funds, investors do not need to fill physical forms and orders for multiple transactions in different AMCs, fund transfers can be seamlessly made online through a single window in few seconds. E-KYC and E-Sign using Aadhar is proving to be a game changer for the entire industry. If you are an investor who is still trying to find your way through physical forms, the time is just right to go digital.

Rise of Financial Savings: Indian households are finally beginning to save the way the rest of the world does - by putting a bigger share of their savings into financial assets. For FY 2015-16, the financial savings share rose to over 41% of total household savings from less than 33% just 4 years back in FY 2012-13. During this period the share of physical assets has fallen by nearly 10% to less than 57%. Interestingly within financial savings, the share of deposits, the most common traditional investment has fallen by an astounding > 14% to about 43%. But at the same time, the savings in equities and debentures has increased from less than 2% to 6.5% now. Clearly, these most important trends indicate rising popularity of financial savings and within that, the move away from traditional savings to equities. This bodes well for a country like India where there is a huge need for capital investment in the economy. The secular falling trend in small savings rates has been one of the reasons for this shift in recent years. As an investor, these trends also put forward a question on your own preferences for savings.

Rise of Mutual Funds: A major development in wealth management over the years is the shift from traditional investment products to new-age investment options, especially mutual funds (MF). The MF industry has been witnessing a clear rise in awareness and acceptability since the past few years. The industry has shown tremendous growth by exceeding ₹17 lakh crore in assets under management (AUM), with inflows worth nearly ₹4 lakh crore in the last 2 years alone. The MF industry had a compound annual growth rate (CAGR) of 18% over the past 10 years. What is interesting is that the rise is not just in the top 15 cities of India but also from the rest of India where the growth was above industry average at about 33% in 2016. There is also a very huge surge in the popularity of SIPs with about 6 lakh new accounts being opened each month in recent times. Consequently, MFs as an investor group has emerged as a key institutional driver of Indian equity markets today.

Changing investor behaviour: There are some visible changes in the expectations of customers and how these expectations are being serviced by the industry. Broadly there is a trend for single window solutions wherein clients are being serviced for multiple investment products and services by a single person/organisation instead of approaching multiple people for different objectives - for eg., mutual funds, equities, insurance, loans, etc. It makes it easier and preferable for investors to associate with someone who offers multiple products and services. Another observation is growing awareness about the need for proper and comprehensive wealth management approach rather than a bits & pieces approach to investing and portfolio management. Today there is also an increasing demand for more digital, online tools for viewing and managing portfolios. An Increasing number of investors are exploring these online services instead of relying on physical servicing by their advisors. This has greatly increased convenience and independence of investors while providing them with on demand services. As an investor, one should explore where you stand and take action to consolidate your financial products portfolio with a trusted advisor and also go fully digital in times to come.

Conclusion: The idea behind sharing broad trends impacting wealth management industry is to extend a perspective of what's happening around you. As an investor one has to also keep oneself updated with the important trends and to learn and adapt from it. Clearly, how we managed our investments has undergone huge changes in the last decade. But the next few years will probably usher in many more changes. As an investor, who does not want to be left behind, we have to keep our eyes and minds open.

FUND MANAGER INTERVIEWS

Mr. Srinivas Rao Ravuri - Senior Fund Manager - Equities

Mr. Srinivas Rao Ravuri has been Senior Fund Manager of Equities at HDFC Asset Management Company Ltd. since October 2004. Previously, Mr. Ravuri served as a Senior Analyst at Motilal Oswal Securities Ltd., from July 2003 to September 2004. Prior to that, from December 1996 to July 2003, he served as the Assistant Vice President of Equity Research at Edelweiss Capital Ltd. Previously, Mr. Ravuri served as an Investment Analyst at Securities Capital Investments (I) Ltd., from November 1994 to November 1996. He has an extensive experience in equity research and fund management. Mr. Ravuri received an M.B.A. and a B.Com degree in Finance.

Q: The markets have been trading at peaks for some time now. What is your take on the valuations front and what is the justification behind such levels?

Ans: Equity markets have lagged nominal GDP growth for several years now. Profit growth is now improving and earnings growth for next 2-3 years is expected to be strong (Bloomberg consensus NIFTY EPS growth – 16% in FY18 and 20% in FY19). NIFTY is currently trading at ~16.7x FY19E EPS which is reasonable in a low interest rate and strong earnings growth environment. In our opinion therefore, there is merit in increasing allocation to equities (for those with a medium to long term view) and to stay invested.

Q GST is just round the corner and recently the rates were also disclosed. How do you read the situation presently and the short term impact of the change in markets?

Ans: During the month, GST Council finalized the tax rate for most of the goods and services. According to government estimates, recently finalized GST rates should lower inflation by 2% after their implementation. Over time, GST should increase tax compliance leading to moderation in tax rate and at the same time ease of doing business should also improve.

Given the nature of reform and size of the country, there could be short term challenges. However, from a medium to long term perspective, it will be a huge positive. Also, the market is focussing on the medium to long term positive impact.

Q There has been an increase in fund flow to markets via mutual funds in recent times. How will this increased participation benefit the market health going forward?

Ans: Equity mutual funds (MFs) have received healthy flows since May 2014. In recent months, inflows from systematic investment plans (SIPs) alone have amounted to sizeable number per month. Despite heavy selling by foreign institutional investors since the demonetisation announcement, Indian markets have done well, largely because of large purchases by domestic institutions.

Investment in mutual funds as percentage of total financial savings is quite low in the country. We expect MFs to grow at a faster pace as compared to other financial assets in the long run. This will lead to healthy balancing in the market between domestic and FII flows.

Q: What segments and sectors of the market do you believe still offers the most opportunity and why?

Ans: Interestingly, macroeconomic conditions in India have improved significantly in the last few years. Inflation has halved, the rupee is appreciating, the current-account deficit is negligible, the foreign direct investment has doubled and metal prices have stabilised at reasonable levels. This is likely to support faster profit growth in sectors that were laggards in the last cycle – capital goods, corporate banks, metals. It will slow growth in sectors with relatively higher valuations like FMCG and pharma that were leaders in the last cycle. This once again has created a conducive environment for a new cycle in markets in our opinion.

Q: What is your investment strategy at present and how are you investing the new funds?

Ans: Our flagship funds have successfully navigated each of the last three market cycles between 1995 – 2016 and have substantially outperformed the benchmark indices. This was possible as the funds invested in the next cycle ahead of markets. This time around as well, we read the changing environment early and the portfolios are aligned according to the changing market environment. In our opinion, the investment opportunities are abundant in the equity markets and we see no issues in allocating the new flows received by us.

Q: From a retail investor's perspective, what should be his investment strategy at this moment?

Ans: The prospects of Indian economy are very promising. Equity markets have lagged behind economic growth for several years now. Equities have a good compounding potential in such an environment. To effectively benefit from India's growth is simple, investors should estimate their risk capital (that part of wealth which can be spared for five years or more and on which volatility can be tolerated). This portion of wealth should be invested in three–five carefully chosen funds that have a track record of outperforming markets over several cycles.

AMFI sees MF industry's AUM crossing ₹ 94 trillion by 2025

The mutual fund industry is likely to grow by almost fivefold to sniff past Rs 94 trillion by 2025 from the current level of over ₹ 20 trillion provided they increase distribution strength and reach. The industry lobby AMFI has pointed out that to achieve this, the industry needs to increase their distributor strength to over 6 lakh from the present 86,000. The AUM of the mutual fund industry is all set to cross Rs 94 trillion by 2025 from ₹ 20 trillion at present. Even if the industry grows at a current rate of 23 per cent per annum, it can easily achieve this number, A Balasubramanian, AMFI chairman and Birla SunLife Mutual Fund chief executive said. In fact, Balasubramanian said the industry has already touched AUM of ₹ 20 trillion a few days ago. Even if the industry grow at a 5-year average growth rate, it will easily touch this milestone. On folio counts, he said the industry will have 13.3 crore folios by 2025 up from 5.6 crore now. He said joint efforts of SEBI, AMFI, fund houses and distributors will drive this growth for the industry.

Mutual fund exposure to bank stocks at record ₹ 1.44 lakh crore

Mutual fund managers continued to be bullish on bank shares, with their allocation to the sector reaching an all time-high of over ₹ 1.44 lakh crore at the end of May, mainly due to cheaper valuations. In comparison, the figure was ₹ 90,014 crore at the end of May 2016. Banking continues to be the most preferred sector with the fund managers as they cannot afford to take a bearish call on banking stocks, given the high weightage attached to the index. The experts expect that bank stocks would continue to be in focus in coming months as markets regulator SEBI eased its takeover norms for restructuring listed companies with stressed assets.

NEWS UPDATE

June consumer inflation eases to 1.54%, lowest in new series

The country's annual consumer price inflation further eased to 1.54 per cent in June, helped by a fall in food prices, government data showed. The rise was slower than 1.70 per cent forecast by economists in a Reuters poll, and was the lowest since India started releasing retail inflation data in January 2012 based on a combined CPI index for rural and urban consumers. Consumer prices rose 2.18 per cent year-on-year in May. Retail food prices fell 2.12 per cent last month from a year ago, compared with a 1.05 percent fall in the previous month.

Mining, manufacturing drag May IIP to 1.7% from 8% a year ago

Industrial output growth slumped to 1.7 per cent in May from 8 per cent a year-ago due to poor performance of mining and manufacturing, and may put pressure on the RBI to cut interest rate in its policy next month. The factory output growth, measured on the Index of Industrial Production (IIP), for April-May period decelerated to 2.3 per cent from 7.3 per cent in the same period last fiscal, as per the data released by the Central Statistics Office. The data further revealed that output of the capital goods segment, considered as key indicator of investment, shrunk by 3.9 per cent compared to a high growth of 13.9 per cent recorded in May 2016.

Core sector growth up 3.6% in May from 2.8% in April on energy push

Core sector output rose by 3.6 per cent in May, up from the 2.8 per cent rise the previous month of April. The improving pace of growth, counted year on year, was primarily led by the electricity sector supported by refinery products and natural gas. Data released by the Commerce and

NEWS UPDATE

Industry Ministry also showed that the eight core industries, coal, crude oil, natural gas, refinery products, fertiliser, steel, cement and electricity had cumulative growth of 3.2 per cent in the first two months of the current financial year. This is less than half the 6.9 per cent growth that was seen in the corresponding period of previous year of 2016-17. Contributing 40 per cent to the total industrial production, core sector output had dipped in April mainly due to tepid growth across sectors apart from steel, electricity and fertilizers.

Govt slashes small savings rates by 0.1% in Q2

The government has lowered interest rate on small saving schemes like PPF, Kisan Vikas Patra and Sukanya Samriddhi by 0.1 per cent for the July-September quarter, a move that will prompt banks to lower deposit rates. The rates have been lowered by 0.1 per cent across the board compared to the April-June quarter. However, interest on savings deposits has been retained at 4 per cent annually. Since April last year, interest rates of all small saving schemes have been recalibrated on a quarterly basis. Kisan Vikas Patra (KVP) investments will yield 7.5 per cent and mature in 115 months. The one for girl child savings, Sukanya Samriddhi Account Scheme, will offer 8.3 per cent annually, from 8.4 per cent at present. The investment on 5-year Senior Citizens Savings Scheme will yield 8.3 per cent.
